

Hello I am a subscriber to XM Radio. I delayed purchasing a subscription to XM because of the monthly cost and now wish I had signed on when first introduced.

My family and I like the choices provided and the ability to listen to without commercial interruption (unless listening to re-broadcasted programs). These choices do not come close to what we can pick up on either at home or car radios. When we travel, we can enjoy as a family, the Discovery Channel, or music from a genre or artists.

The main reason that we signed on to XM is that most radio stations are very localized to the community and do not always serve the entire communities need for diversity. Additionally, the commercials and their content (sex enhancing drugs) are repeated frequently leaving no other option then to tune out that station.

I feel that XM is the new generation of broadcasted entertainment and has clearly demonstrated to me and my family that innovation and choice continues to enhance our way of life.
